

"A World of Possibilities" by Darrell Jackson, Sr.

Chapter Three Highlights

"The Promises of Possibilities"

Deuteronomy 28:1-3 (NKJV)

June 17, 2008

Pastor Darrell Jackson, Sr.

- People of possibilities are those who have the promises of possibilities. They are the ones with an assurance that God will do miraculous things in their lives. (p. 22)
- God will keep His promises. He has promised you a good thing, and the day will come when He will perform it. (p.24)
- Whatever God blesses you with thank Him for it. Learn how to be grateful for the blessings you receive from God. Be careful not to envy the grass on the other side of the fence. (p. 25)
- The promises of God are not automatic. The promises of God are conditional. If you hearken diligently to the voice of the Lord, then you can expect to be blessed. (p. 25)
- God is not looking for perfection. He is looking for faithfulness. (p.26)
- Sometimes you have to speak into existence the possibilities that God has for you. (p. 27)

Five possibilities of blessings that God has for us:

1. When God is about to bless you, there isn't a thing that the enemy can do about it.
2. The blessings of God shall do two things: come upon you and overtake you.
3. You will be blessed no matter where you are: in the city or in the field.
4. The Lord will give you more than enough. Stop asking for provision; instead ask for abundance.
5. The Lord shall open unto thee His good treasure. You don't have to wait for the treasures of men.

Now you know what you are entitled to have. Go possess your promises. It doesn't matter what others think when God has given you a promise. Remember, the promises of God are not automatic. If you diligently hearken unto the voice of the Lord and do His commandments, these blessings will come upon you and overtake you.
